GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK KING JAMES HAS CHANCE IN THE ANNUAL CHAMPION.

Will Carry 102 Pounds in Rich Stakes Next Saturday to Ballot's 127-Private Speculation May Be Permitted at Gravesend-Entries for To-day.

Because of his fine race in the Century Stakes, when he was beaten a length by Ballot in 2:30 3-5 for one mile and a half, John E. Madden's King James already is in high favor for the Annual Champion Stakes of $25,000, two miles and a quarter which will be run at Sheepshead Bay next Saturday. According to the weight ar ent for this event, three-year-olds must carry 112 pounds; four-year-olds and upward 124 pounds, with the usual sex and gelding allowances; non-winners of any ce when three-year-olds and upward unds; non-winners of any race of the oings in handicans when carrying less than weight for age not to be considered.

Although King James has started in numerous races this year he has been victorious only twice in overnight handicaps, the that reason he will get into the Champion with only 102 pounds as his burden, thirteen pounds less than he packed in the Century. reason to believe that he will go to the post-he will pick up 127 pounds, one pound ore than he carried when he took King ames's measure last Saturday.

It will be seen, therefore, that the chances

f-King James, at the weights, will probably materially increased in the Cnampion takes. Ballot won the Century in clever style, but King James was fighting it out gamely at the end of the journey. Last year, it will be recalled, Ballot was defeated in the Champion Stakes by Salvidere, the Voter colt getting a bad ride from Walter Still, at the time it was argued that Ballot was not a stayer, which was afterproved when he was beaten badly in the Cup Preliminary and also in the Brighton Cup at the Beach. Ballot was a three-year-old then and was not within pounds of being the racehorse he appears to be just now. He seems to have greater and stamina than ever before in spite of the fact that Voter, his famous sire, was rely a sprinter.

Keene's Colin and Celt are both ligible for the Champion Stakes, but they are practically out of the racing game fo rest of the season if, not permanently. P. Whitney may start his Nasturtium Stamina on Saturday, while F. A. forsythe's Dorante is also sure to face the arrier. Another possible starter is the ada, who is a consistent performer. The field is bound to be a small one, with Ballot and King James the probable factors.

prevail is a question that cannot be answered yet. It was said last week that subscribers the Champion Stakes had been asked ckey Club to reduce the guaranteed cash the fact that the Coney Island Jockey Club will make good all its obligations to the rsemen, yet facing a loss of more than 0,000 as a result of the present meeting at the Bay, the above request, horsemer ith a ready consent.

Great Eastern Handicap, for twoyear-olds, with a guaranteed value of $7,503, also will be run next Saturday over six furlongs of the Futurity course. It is Fayette will start, as John E. Madden has retired them for the season. It also is generally believed that James R. Keene will keep Maskette in the barn on that day, as the great filly has had a trifle too racing in the last ten days. But Messrs. Keene and Madden will be reli represented in the Great Eastern evertheless. Mr. Keene's eligibles are Helmet, Wedding Bells, Melisande, Hilarious, Selectman, Footpad and Turncoat, while the Madden eligibles are the star Ogden filly Lady Bedford and the colts Edward and Joe Madden. It is possible, however, that J. B. Respess's Dick Roller. a slashing youngster by Dick Welles, may be a factor, while F. A. Forsythe's High Mouse, Street railway company all summer. Private, August Belmont's Field Mouse, H. P. Whitney's Hillside and George Codom's Trance may be worthy of some consideration. H. B. Duryea's Mediant and Strike Out, together with S. C. Hillingtenthy Fitz Herbert and H. R. Brandt's Harrigan, also are possible starters.

To-morrow the September Stakes, for three-year-olds, five and a half furionga, will be decided. It is probable that the starters in the September will include Fair Play or Priscillian from August Belmont's stable, also Dorante, Hessian, Restigouche, Fairada and Big Chief. Mr. Keene may start either Affliction, his Meddler filly, or Tatting, also by Meddler, in the Sapphire, with such youngsters as Dick Roller, Harrigan Perseus and Lady Hubbard to beat. On Wednesday the Belles, for two-year-old fillies, is one attraction, with Lady Bedford, Miss Kearney, Field Mouse, Mediant, Trance, Petticoat, Wallflower and others in the list. Another feature that day will be the Waldorf Dinner Stakes, for two-year-old colts and geldings, for which Fashion Plate, Strike Out, Sir John, Chepontus and Marcellus appear to be the best. All of the best sprinters are booked for the Flight Stakes, for all ages, to be run on Thursday. Roseben, Half Soveraign, Fair Play, Jack Atkin, Royal Tourist, Priscillian, King Cobalt, Dreamer, Bar None, Big Chief and others can start in this event. Tourist, Priscillian, King Cobalt, Dreamer, Bar None, Big Chief and others can start in this event. The Russet Selling Stakes, at a mile and a half, on the grass, also will be decided on Thursday, with such good performers as Brother Jonathan, Moquette, Miss Lida, Grapple, Arusee, Bedouin, Mon-fort, Juggler and Woodcraft ready to sport silk. There will be no racing at the Bay on Friday.

It is currently reported that when the Gravesend meeting opens next Monday ulation of a private nature, as permitted by the decisions of Justices Bischoff, Gaynor and Hoyt, will not be interfered with. P.J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, placed himself on record recently as vigorously opposed to all forms of book-making and poolselling. He said that when the Gravesend track opened he would issue orders that the law prohibiting such practices should be enforced to the letter, but at the same time Mr. Dwyer declared that he would not "hold a club over any-He stated that in his opinion credit speculation between individuals was not a violation of the law, but whether it was or not be intended to leave the question to the authorities for a settlement. Mr. Dwyer has arranged a full list of stakes and overthe intended to leave the question to the authorities for a settlement. Mr. Dwyer has arranged a full list of stakes and overnight purses for the meeting, which will last ten days, and his 'iberality and loyalty to the horsemen will be duly appreciated.

After the Gravesend meeting ends the schedule calls for six days at Brighton Beach. Nobody seems to know at present whether the session at the Beach will be held or not. Horsemen are rather bitter in their feelings toward the Brighton management because of their charge that some owners who won purses at the Beach will reduce the quality of the sport.

Belmont Park will open on October 5 for a session of twelve days. The West-chester Racing Association, which is known as the biggest factor in the affairs of the Jockey Club, cannot avoid a big financial loss. It is already accepted as a sure thing that there will be very little speculation at Belmont Park, which means, in addition to the long trip from this city, a greatly reduced attendance. Still the stakes will be run off and overnight purses of not less than $500 will be hung up, according to the relations of the present plans.

The spring meeting at Belmont Park will be run off and overnight purses of not less than $500 will be hung up, according to the rules of the American Power Boat Association for 1908. Entries will constitute the present plans.

so profitable that the Westchester Racing Association can well afford to run the fall session at a loss. Because of large profits at Aqueduct and Jamaica in the spring the fall sessions will be held, an even financial break being the probable result.

Summing up the general situation under the present conditions it may be said that the Coney Island Jockey Club will lose close to $300,000 on the two meetings held at the Bay. The Brooklyn Jockey Club may quit about $100,000 behind. Saratoga lost $30,000, while Empire City, with another meeting to be held, cannot expect to escape perhaps a deficiency of $40,000. Brighto broke about even on the summer meeting, while Belmont Park, Aqueduct and Jamaics will not lose much, if anything.

Horsemen have no idea of what ma happen next year. The fact that H. P. Whitney, August Belmont, John E. Madden and James R. Keene are making prepyear does not augur well for the future. Then, too, the determination of James B. Haggin to sell the bulk of his yearlings abroad before disposing of his stallions and brood mares, followed by the an-Col. Milton Young will sell his McGrathians Stud in Kentucky and leave this country for the Argentine Republic, where he will resume the breeding industry; makes it appear that other breeders will follow suit.

Optimists believe there will be racing here next year, but on a greatly reduced scale as to stakes and purses. They seem to think that when some of the cases now pending trial have been passed upon by the highest courts speculation of some sort can be indulged in. So far not a single bookmaker arrested for violating the law and subsequently indicted has been tried by a jury, which naturally has the subject of turf betting up in the air.

The track will be heavy at the Bay this afternoon. The feature of the card is the Omnium Handicap, at a mile and a furlong, with Dorante, Far West and Reyal Tourist probably the best in the going. The Golden Rod Stakes, for two-year-olds, six and a half furlongs on the grass, is another attraction, with Etherial, Harrigan and Fashion Plate figuring well. In the first race, for all ages, at six and a half fur-longs, Tom McGrath, Woodcraft and Black Mary have chances. For the steeplechase Bat may go well. In the fifth race, at a mile and three-quarters on the grass, Miss Crawford, Milford and Grapple look formidable. Two-year-olds will run in the last race, at six and a half furlongs, main ford and Miss Kearney, in favor over the Belmont pair, Practical and Rostrum, also H. B. Duryea's Lady Selina. To-day's for the amateur championship, and from all parts there will be strangers on the grounds to study the links. On Monday next the fray begins which is to determin the title for the year. Entries close to-night but Secretary Morgan probably will hold them back until the mails from distant points are in, a conventional announcement that seems old fashioned but is necessary as an entry made by telegraph is not valid until the written indorsement is at hand.

There were not many on the course yes terday, for rain and a northeast gale were factors to discourage golfing. Yet of the home guard to get in eighteen hoisa were P. R. Jennings, Walter J. Travis and C. L. Tappin. Fred Herreshoff, also a Garden identified with the Ekwanok Country Club made the round with Warren K. Wo Chroago, whom Travis put out in the third round last year. Wood has been at the scene of combat for several days and on his first sight of the course did 78. A. H. Smith of Philadelphia, Jay S. Jones of brook, also had some practice strokes. There is a rush expected to-day throughout the week the course will be crowded with the aspirants. Jerome D. Travers, the title holder, is going very that should make him a factor in the race. He knows the Garden City course as well as any player in the country, Travis only excepted, and he will not need much advance practice. Play the long game on the flags and put with boldness, are the best tips to give the amateur championship entrants.

There will be all sorts and conditions of golfing competitions to-day, but that to stand out most prominently will be the opening of the eighteen hole course at the Fairfield County Golf Club. Over $40,000 has been expended in changing the course from nine to eighteen holes, and not so long ago such an opening would have attracted In these days new courses are as ordinary as to cut cheese, and to invest $50,000 or so in such property is deemed as safe as to deposit the funds sociation, of which the Fairfield County Golf Club at Greenwich is the most easterly member, but that its grounds and contiguous territory has advanced 50 per cent.
The Fairfield county folks, headed by E. C. Converse, George P. Sheldon, B. H.
Warford, Will Copp and Dr. Carl Martin, have a long day planned on the new links.
This morning there will be an elghteen hole match play against bogey. Those having a handicap of twenty strokes or under will play in Class A for a cup presented by E.
E. Ray, while the Class B players will conpeter for a similar prize given by W. S.
Cooney. In the afternoon there will be foursome match play against bogey, the prizes being two cups for the first and two cups for the second pair. The prizes are the gifts of H. L. Cammann and Col. de Veaux Powel. Winners of the morning contest compete for the afternoon prizes.

F. K. Flaugh of the Scottish American Golf Club after winning a twenty-one hole match from W. B. Wallace in the Greater New York championship last week at Van Cortlandt Park was disqualified on a protest by Wallace that he had made a practice stroke too near the ball on the twentieth hole. Flaugh distinctly recalls taking two steps back from the ball before trying the practice swing and has decided to appeal from the decision to the executive committee of the Metropolitan Golf Association. There was only one member of the tournament committee on the course at the time the protest was heard, and for taking advice from outsiders as well as from the flimsy evidence presented by Wallace there are many Van Cortlandt players who believe the M. G. A. will overrule the decision of the solitary committeeman. It was a tournament somewhat marked by irregularities, for instance the acceptance of entry from a caddie, yet should the M. G. A. sustain Flaugh there will be more trouble brewing, for Wallace was the winner in the flinal. Should Flaugh's appeal be granted the situation will be a peculiar one. F. K. There will be two competitions at the Baltusrol Golf Club to-day and weekly and holiday competitions until Thanksgiving Day. The election day handicap will be for a cup presented by H. Russell Landale, a former member of the Baltusrol Club now residing at Calcutta. On the same day members who have not won a prize this season and this fall have not qualified for any match play event are to play for a cup presented by Dr. M. E. Waldstein. The conditions are unique and promise some good sport with high scores.

JEFFERSON N. H., Sept. 6.—C. C. Adait, Jr., of Chicago won the handicap at the Waumbek Golf Club yesterday. There were twenty starters, and Adsit with 82 12—79 had the best score and was presented with the cup. George W. Perkins, a New York golfer, gave a surprise birthday party to Mrs. Perkins in one of the private cottages. Mrs. Perkins was totally unaware of the feast in store for her when she accepted the invitation of Mr. Perkins to visit "The Maples," which he was thinking of occupying the coming summer. On reaching the cottage Mrs. Perkins was met by fourteen of her friends, who led her inside, where a tasty luncheon was served. After luncheon Mrs. Perkins cut a huge birthday cake.

and the New England Amateur Rowing Association fall contests at Boston are the last big events of the season in rowing, and entries from Scullers Row wil figure prominently in both. From this locality a formidable array has gone to the Potomac, the New York A. C. having the strongest contingent in a senior eight and senior double. If public form counts there is nothing in the eight cared event to trouble the New Yorks, and they should win easily. Quinn and Rivas in the doubles will meet Bennett and Warnock of Springfield in the doubles, and it should be a warm tussle all the way.

The Springfield double beat the "winged

The former had the advantage of being on the home water and of course knew all the soft spots of the cour This the New Yorks say lost them the title, and they have been anxious for another crack at Bennett and his partner on neutral water. Next to the New Yorks the Harlem R. C. should make the beet showing at Washington with an octopede, and Fred Fuessel in the senior soulls. If the octopede should land in first place this time they will become permanent owners of the challenge cup as they have a leg on it.

Athletic Club is down for next Saturday.

A novely is promised in the shape of an eight oared race between the club's champion crew of twenty years ago and the champion crew of this year. The old crew was stroked by E. J. Gianinni, who is now the club's coach, and the other members of the eight were James Cremins, 7; M. Austen, 6; W. Inglis, 5; F. McDougall, 4; J. W. Spalding, 3; E. Weeracht, 2, and Dr. E. W. Knickerbocker, bow. The flight of time has handled most of the old 'uns lightly and they are in fair physical condition. Along with this event there will be a barge race for the Huckleberry Indians, and contests at singles, doubles. fours, centipedes and eight oared shells.

The closing competitive event of the season on the Harlem River takes place next. Saturday in the way of a dual meet between the Union Boat Club and Nonparell R. C. A good list of events has been arranged. There is a report on the Harlem that Titus will be one of the Nonparell representatives, caused probably by the fact that he has been rowing in a double with O'Neill as a partner.

There is a feeling among the Harlem River clubs that in future there should either be a fall meet of the Harlem Regatta Association or that the middle States regatts should always be held on the Harlem. This latter fixture is now doing no good for itself by being shunfed around the country, but having it permanently in this locality would do some real good to the sport. At any rate, at this season more oarsmen can be found in condition than in the spring and no local fixture is to be found where they may indulge their racing inclinations.

Biturica, the dam of Maskette, who so cleverly defeated the crack two-year-olds Sir Martin, Helmet and Fayette in the Futurity last Saturday, is a much prized young broodmare at the Castleton Farm. She is now only 8 years old and is by Hamburg, out of Barridale, by Donovan, She was bred by the late Marcus Daly and purchased by Jr. Keene as a yearling. She is a full sister to inflexible, who in 1903 won the Foam and Surf Stakes. Maskette is her third foal, she having previously produced the stake winner Vell, a full sister to the Futurity winner and a bay colt, by Commando. Her dam, Barriedale, was purchased by Jr. Haggin at the closing out sale of the Bitter Root stud for $4,000. She was imported to this country by Mr. Daly. She is by the Derby and St. Leger winner, Donovan, out of Caithness, dam of the sires and number of races won follow: Fair Play, by Hastings, four races and Chicago tossed the game away by miserable work in the seventh inning. Maddox hit into the crowd for two bases; Overall threw Shan-non's bunt wild; Clarke singled, scoring of the plate, scoring Shannon and a wild pitch let Clarke across the rubber. The champions repeatedly got men on bases but never could bunch hits for a single rune

Both Pfeister and Leifield were hit hard in the second game. Two base drives by Blagle and Steinfeidt, coupled with free

Baseball Notes.

The improvement in Fred Parent's play of late has much to do with the brace of the White Sox.

Two triple plays and a seventeen inning game all inone week was giving the Philadelphia rooters variety with a vengeance.

Walter Johnson has pitched eighteen consecutive innings against the New York Americans without the latter scoring a run.

In case the weather is bad this morning and there is a postponement at Washington Park there will be two Brooklyn-Boston games in the afternoon.

Arellanes of the Boston Americans has been dubbed Aeroplane, but he hasn't gone up in the air much. On the other hand he looks as if he would do.

While the Pittsburgs and Cubs were taking a fall out of each other the Poloists were winning two from the Quakers, and that was a heipful series of happenings right there.

Mike Donlin apparently doesn't like sun fields for McGraw shifted him over to left field in Philadelphia and put McCormick in the sun garden. Donlin has done excellent fielding in the left pasture in Philadelphia.

The playing of the New York Nationals on the road must be seen to be appreciated. The coming stretch of home games is expected to count in the New Yorks favor in chasing the pennant, but they can't play any better at home than they have in most of their games since they last went away.

Joe Cantillion is a humandary and the stretch of the stretch was the stretch of the stretch o they last went away.

Joe Centillon is a humorist. Last Saturday he was on the coaching lines at American League Park as the score of the game in Philadelphia was going up. "Come on you New York," he exclaimed, referring to the New York Nationals. Then turning around to the stand. "That's the team we're going to play for the world's championablp."

ENGLAND'S DAVIS CUP PLAN A NEW TEAM FOR AUSTRALASIA St. Louis, Sept. 6.—According to the official figures given out by President Hedges, a record crowd saw the Browns

Hedges's official figures show 26,652 persons in attendance, but this does not include these who came in on passes, and

However, Likely to Take Preliminary. according to this about 27,000 actually saw Of chief interest just now in lawn tennis is the approaching Davis cup play at Long-wood. The British team, M. J. G. Ritchia

The game was won on its merits and because Waddell was not as good a pitcher as Donovan. McAieer's southpaw was not in and'J. C. Parke, is scheduled to leave New York this morning for Boston, to get ready for the matches on the courts where they Donovan. McAleer's southpaw was not in form and he was hit hard and consistently, Waddell lasted until the sixth inning and Dineen took his place in the seventh. The latter held the Tigers in check and no runs were scored after he took charge. Donovan was hit freely, but he was far more effective than Waddell with men on bases. Feature fielding was confined almost entirely to the infield owing to the crowd. The score: will be held. It was planned yesterday to have the visitors play at the A. C., but an all day drizzle made that npossible.
The All-England L. T. A. apparently has the same idea about the preliminary matches that the United States N. L. T. A. has, that is, that the team successful in the preliminaries need not be sent to Australasia. If Ritchie and Parke win at Longwood they are to return to England in-stead of going on to Australasia directly from here. Then a team will be made up to challenge the holders of the trophy. Neither Ritchie nor Parke could say yesterday what they thought that team might be. Other affairs will keep. Ritchie in England, he says, but Parke is free to ge-Louis...... 0 0 1 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 ctroit..... 2 1 0 0 1 2 0 0 0 0

This is figuring perhaps without need because the Americans are confident they will win the preliminary matches. By all calculations they should do that. W. A. Larned, the champion, is used in the singles there appears to be no reason why he should not win both his contests. He is at his best now, although it is years since is at his best now, although it is years since he started playing. Although he was nervous and anxious when he began his match with Besis Wright in the challenge round at Newport, he did not permit himself round at Newport, he did not permit himself to be thrown off his game. His efficient play was one of the best signs that he has steadled down with increasing experience. Granted that Beals Wright is the other American in singles, there is no reason why he should not win one of his matches, which will give the challenge round to the Americans then and there.

But if anything further is needed it may be put down as certain that F. B. Alexander and H. H. Hackett will win the doubles. The national champions, with their superb team work, surely ought not to be at a loss with any oasual doubles team, no matter what the individual merit of the players composing it.

is the semi-finals West, though beaten in straight sets, made a fight of it. It would have been better for Le Roy, if he had any idea that two tournament titles instead of one would improve his ranking, to have left for Cincinnati the first time he thought of it. The East Jersey cup now bears the names of F. G. Anderson, Karl H. Behr (twice), Edward P. Larned and Richard H. Palmer.

An open tournament will begin to-day on the courts of the Westchester T. C. There are to be men's and women's singles and doubles, as well as consolation singles for the men. At the Bronxville A. A., beginning September 14, there will be an open tournament in men's singles and obtaining September 14, there will be an open tournament in men's singles and other matches.

The Metropolitan Lawn Tennis League matches still are to be completed. According to the regulations they may not run later than the third week in this month. The West Side T. C. has been particularly lax in following up its schedule. The smaller clube have stuck closer to their games. Warning notices will be sent out to the clubs by Otto H. Hinck, Montclait A.
